Distiller's Notes: "Launching the Brandy program in 1983 with a 1,000 gallon Puhlo Alambic was a long term commitment to distilling in California. I wanted our brandy to reflect my heritage of hand distilling. Little did I know that we would distill so many spirits in between but I was determined that the premiere release would be how I envisioned it should be: full bodied and elegant. That my son apprenticed by my side and learned to distill whiskey, rum, pastis, flavored vodkas and more while the brandy aged... well, that's how my people carry on. For me, distilling isn't a business, it's a way of life." Miles Karakasevic

Robb Report: Best of the Best, Spirits 2011

"... an unbelievable brandy and well worth the accolades. Extremely limited in quantity, his artisan brandy is a velvet tapestry of cherry, chocolate, citrus, and marzipan, with a hint of walnut on the finish." Richard Carleton Hacker

"The most interesting thing I tried at WhiskyFest was a brandy of all things. Tasted like what I imagine a Christmas rum raisin cake tastes like; juicy allspice..." -Camper English/SF
